

Marion County, Florida: Improving Services for Adults with Mental Illnesses in Contact with the Criminal Justice System

Sequential Intercept Mapping

Introduction

This report summarizes the Cross-Systems Sequential Intercept Mapping workshop held in Marion County, June 14th, 2012. The workshop was facilitated by the Florida Criminal Justice Mental Health and Substance Abuse (CJMHSA) Technical Assistance Center at Florida Mental Health Institute (FMHI), University of South Florida (USF). This report includes:

A brief review of the origins and background for the workshop

Information gathered at the workshop based the Sequential Intercept Model or Cross-Systems Mapping

An action planning matrix as developed by the group

Summary, consensus and observations by the Florida CJMHSA Technical Assistance Center to assist Masselvibrion County participants

Background

The Honorable Judge McCune, along with the full support of multiple local stakeholders and Marion County Criminal Justice and Behavioral Health Planning Council requested that the Florida CJMHSA Technical Assistance Center facilitate the Cross-Systems Sequential Intercept Model Mapping in Marion County, Florida to provide assistance with:

Creating an updated map of the points of interface among all relevant systems Identification of resources, gaps, and barriers in the existing systems

Development of an initial strategic action plan to promote progress in addressing the criminal justice diversion and treatment needs of the target population

The participants in the workshop included 38 individuals representing multiple stakeholder systems, including leadership from mental health, substance abuse treatment, human services, corrections, law enforcement, advocates, county government, and the courts. A complete list of participants is available at the end of this document. John Petrila J.D., LL.M. and Jessica Mitchell Ph.D. (c) from USF-FMHI facilitated the workshop session.

Objectives of the Cross-Systems Mapping Exercise

The Cross-Systems Mapping Exercise had interventions at each intercept point in the Criminal Justice and Behavioral Health System as perceived by the participants during the mapping process. Gaps in service delivery and resource opportunities are identified at each intercept point. These notes may be used as a reference in reviewing the Marion County Cross-Systems Map and as a tool in developing a formal strategic action plan and/or future Memorandum of Understanding among community stakeholders and local planning entities.

Intercept I: Initial Contact w/ Law Enforcement, Prevention Programs, or Emergency Services

Identified Gaps – Law Enforcement / Emergency Services (Intercept 1)

Need for increased CIT training among law enforcement, but costs time for officers to be taken off streets for training

Communication within the department of officers who are CIT trained SO internally tracks type of service utilization on calls – information not shared or used

The Centers does not share whether or not a person has been in treatment or their history with officers

Lack of information sharing

Do not have CIT teams – lack of support and funding in county for this idea Lack of training among 911 and 211 operators

Identified Strengths

CIS available to go with LEO to emergency calls – operate 24/7

Working relationship with The Centers (officers can call to determine Baker Act criteria)

Two receiving facilities for Baker Act, The Vines and The Centers 24/30 and 15 private beds

Licensed detox facility available for Marchman Acts – if full, they are taken to jail. Then contact Centers for avail bed and sent there for treatment.

Refuge (private facility) able to take Marchman Acts once seen by courts (no Medicaid or Medicare clients)

Intercept II: Initial Detention / Initial Detention and Court Appearance

Identified Gaps – Initial Detention and Court Appearance (Intercept 2)

Need release of information to get treatment/medication history or communication with treatment providers

Lack of information sharing

Verifying medications is a lengthy process and clients go without meds for days – discontinuity is medication administration

No peer specialist in jail (maybe via NAMI?)

Lack of communication among community – has possibility to alleviate issue of medication

Need for practical early interventions

Over 40% bond out before any treatment can go into effect or can be followed up

Identified Strengths

A number of community resources available for special needs Family members can contact jail staff regarding medical concerns or medication information via website – but this option may not be known MH and veterans questions in jail screen

Intercept III: Jails / Courts

Identified Gaps – Jails/Courts (Intercept 3)

Need more information when determining if MHC is appropriate Need to determine how to differentiate for MHC, DC, and VC – potential need to change screening process

3 day supply of medication

Medication management issues (getting to dr. visits, dr. availability, etc.)

Homeless shelters require picture ID

Sustainability of MHC – funding ends in a year

Identified Strengths

Initial issue with timeliness of application being approved to send person to MHC and then person is no longer interested, but now process is quick and communication is strong.

Availability of free drugs via Drug companies – The Centers aware and can coordinate (jail was not aware)

Moving towards integration of physical and mental services

Part-time volunteer staff have "reentry building" that allows for released to apply for social services/benefits

Homeless shelters available: Salvation Army, Interfaith

Community networking meeting each month to bring together resources

Intercept IV: Re-Entry

Identified Gaps – Re-entry (Intercept 4)

Access to entitlements
Lack of housing options upon release
Medication availability upon release

Identified Strengths

Ability to write prescriptions for inmates upon release for up to 30-day supply OCC staff make efforts to connect those released with community resources

Intercept V: Home and Community Supervision and Support

Identified Gaps - Community Corrections / Community Support (Intercept 5)

VA has abundance of services, but there it is very difficult to navigate the VA system – need for dedicated staff/peer specialist to assist Lack of aftercare post MHC Lack of funding in services that clients are referred to Employment opportunities

Identified Strengths

Variety of community resources available Collaboration among providers is strong.

The Marion County Action Plan

Subsequent to the completion of the Systems Mapping exercise, the assembled stakeholders began to define specific steps that could be taken to address the gaps identified in the group discussion about the systems map. Four priority areas were identified, including opportunities for tactical interventions to promote "early, quick victories" and more strategic interventions to stimulate longer-term systems changes. These priority areas are outlined on the following pages. The Marion County Criminal Justice and Behavioral Health Planning Council will need to refine the persons responsible for implementation, action items and longer term timetable.
